

FREEDOM IS NON-NEGOTIABLE.

ALFREDO COSPITO OUT OF 41BIS

Anarchist Alfredo Cospito has made the choice of hungerstrike to the end against the Italian prison regime 41bis, a concrete grave, where the law has tried to bury him to prevent the spreading of his ideas of freedom and the need to attack its enemies.

Power needs to model, predict and measure, always trying to avoid the worst for itself. But when people stop accepting blackmail, stop listening to the forecasts, and then even the warnings, and start to act- then things can become unpredictable.

With Alfredo, the Italian State has encountered something it can't factor into its calculations -- it is trying to calculate a struggle without measure.

Alfredo Cospito won't accept barter for his freedom. His uncompromising demand pours out of the dungeon and into the streets, refueling the social tempest beyond walls and borders.

The cost of losing the veneer of control is enough to bankrupt any authority
But freedom is non-negotiable and without limit.
